GLOBAL PRODUCT SOLUTIONS

We have extensive experience in providing product lines to our nationwide and worldwide government, military and law enforcement clients. We continue to focus on being a solutions-provider for our customers and approaching challenges with a positive attitude. We have the infrastructure to conduct rapid equipment acquisitions, the experience to quickly adjust to emerging product requirements and the maturity to create a realistic map that intersects reality with expectations, for virtually any brand anywhere.

VEHICLES

We provide vehicle solutions spanning requirements from single vehicles to entire fleet operations for commercial, construction, medical response, and tactical vehicles nationwide and internationally. If you are representing a government entity, you can put your confidence in us. Our experienced team can guide you through the vehicle procurement process, and we regularly work with government customers to provide training and support. With our help, you and your community will get the most out of your vehicles.

PERSONAL PROTECTIVE EQUIPMENT

We strive to set the standard for confidence and trust in protective gear by providing a suite of solutions to meet your protective requirements. Our suppliers offer industry leading technologies in rugged and reliable equipment platforms. Today, thousands of our protection solutions are fielded within the Department of Defense, Department of Justice, Department of Homeland Security, and across US State and local agencies as well as our international clients.

WEAPONS & OPTICS

Our mission is to support military and law enforcement personnel by providing proven weapons, ammunition and optical products. We know that law enforcement is a broad category made up of agencies and organizations with varying needs. But no matter the context, our products and services are there to support those who put themselves in harm's way to keep others safe. We proudly work with all branches of the military including our international clients to find solutions that work for their unique requirements.

C4ISR

Our command, control, computer and communications intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance (C4ISR) solutions simplify the complex when the stakes are the highest. We provide focused products that achieve information dominance, battlespace awareness—and ultimately, decision advantage.

SURVIVAL EQUIPMENT

We offer a full range of products for survival situations and emergency preparedness. Our partnerships with top manufacturers in the field allow us to offer a wide range of different survival products tailored to your requirements. We represent the leading manufacturers in the safety industry and offer superior customer service and practical solutions to your safety needs. Our well-seasoned and professional staff can assist you in finding the right product, accessories and parts.

MANUFACTURING/FABRICATION

Our newest venture is the creation of an internal fabrication division. GBS has teamed with TRIFAB and Anaheim Precision, both are industry leaders in the fabrication of aircraft parts. We are addressing the Federal Aviation Community and providing solutions for hard to source spare parts. In addition, we have an exclusive agreement with MARRICK Fabrication to produce commercial components and 25-ton counter weights for large machinery in the construction industry.

TARGET SYSTEMS/SIMULATORS

GBS is at the forefront in design and integration of advanced target systems for marksmanship improvement. Incorporating human performance technology, and cognitive enhancement to desensitize execution stress. Our products line includes the "Conflict Kinetics" Synthetic Trainer, the "Troysgate" Cognitive Enhancement Target System and multiple fixed and mobile target systems.
